Doty, Lyle and Jones, LLC
to become ACM's Boulder Office

(DENVER, CO — December 14, 2011) Anton Collins Mitchell LLP (ACM), ranked the 5th largest Colorado-owned accounting firm announces a new ACM office in Boulder. The accounting firm of Doty, Lyle and Jones, LLC (DLJ) has combined their practice with ACM. This combining of firms is effective January 1, 2012 and part of ACM's strategic initiative to build a larger Colorado footprint.

"While ACM has been providing services to clients in the Boulder area for the past decade, the addition of our new Boulder office and the individuals from the DLJ firm is a significant strategic step forward in our ability to provide service more quickly and effectively for those clients. ACM brings a sophisticated depth of service and client-centric focus into the Boulder marketplace which we see as part of a larger value proposition," says firm managing partner, Gary Mitchell, "Rick Doty and Bill Jones have built a well respected practice and we are proud to have them as partners."

The staff in the Boulder office remains the same and will continue to be led by Rick Doty and Bill Jones. Their firm's 20 year commitment to over 1500 clients providing independent, objective and comprehensive business solutions remains intact.

Rick Doty shares Mitchell's sentiment. "Our firms share a deep commitment to how we approach client relations and similar cultural philosophies. Our clients can rest assured they will receive the same level of service with the benefit of added resources. We are thrilled to now have the depth to focus even more on the needs of our community."

ACM will celebrate their 10th anniversary in July 2012. The firm has grown from 3 partners and 24 employees to 17 partners and directors and over 100 employees since 2002. ACM opened an office in Greeley, Colorado in October of 2010 through the combining of ACM and Watkins & Schommer, Inc. Founding partner Gregory Anton serves as Chairman of the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants.
